H.R. 6036.

Congress has the power to enact this legislation pursuant to the following:

The bill relates to matters concerning the foreign policy and national security of the United States.

Article I, section 8 of the Constitution of the United States provides, in pertinent part, that "Congress shall have power ... to pay the debts and provide for the common defense and general welfare of the United States"; "... to raise and support armies..."; "To provide and maintain a Navy"; "To make Rules for the Government and Regulation of the land and naval Forces"; and "To make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into Execution the foregoing Powers and all other Powers vested in this Constitution in the Government of the United States, or in any Department or Officer thereof."

By Mr. COFFMAN of Colorado:

H.R. 6037.

Congress has the power to enact this legislation pursuant to the following:

The constitutional authorities on which this bill rests is:

Article I, Sec. 8, Clause 3, the Commerce Clause, of the United States Constitution

This states that "Congress shall have power to ... regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several states, and with the Indian tribes." The power to regulate commerce among the several states is the power to define conditions and rules for commercial transactions, and the regulation of the prices and terms of sale. Establishing regulations which govern the monetary policies federal banking regulators dictate financial institutions must follow, and the interactions between those regulators and institutions, affects the ability of these institutions to conduct business transactions with clients among the several states, and thus falls under the commerce clause.
